UniFirst and Hendrick Motorsports announced an eight-year agreement last year making the uniform, workwear, and facility services company a primary sponsor of select NASCAR races and a full-season associate sponsor for the No. 5 team each season through the year 2023. The upcoming races for the UniFirst Chevrolet will take place at Talladega, Ala., on May 7 and the Daytona 400 in Daytona Beach, Fla., on July 1, at 7:30 p.m. EDT. Both will air internationally on network television with the Talladega race on FOX and Daytona on NBC.

UniFirst is one of North America's largest workwear and textile service companies, providing managed uniform, protective clothing, custom corporate image apparel, and ancillary facility service programs to businesses in virtually all industries throughout North America. UniFirst is also the official workwear provider for Hendrick Motorsports and sister company Hendrick Automotive Group, which is the largest privately held retail automotive organization in the United States.

"UniFirst is thrilled to be continuing our relationship with Hendrick Motorsports and the entire No. 5 NASCAR racing team. We're excited for the upcoming UniFirst-sponsored races and our entire company will be cheering on Kasey at Talladega and Daytona," said Adam Soreff, director of marketing and communications for UniFirst. "Hendrick Motorsports is one of the premier -- and most highly respected -- teams in professional auto racing and UniFirst is proud to be a partner. All of us at UniFirst wish Kasey and everyone at Hendrick Motorsports the best of luck for a successful 2017 NASCAR season."

Since joining Hendrick Motorsports in 2012, Kasey Kahne, 37, has earned 17 career NASCAR Cup Series wins and five playoff berths. The Enumclaw, Wash., native's impressive career totals more than 85 top-five finishes, 165 top-ten finishes, and 25 pole positions.

Kahne had this to say, "I'm looking forward to the upcoming races driving the UniFirst Chevy. Last year, I met several folks from UniFirst at the track, including CEO Ron Croatti, and they're all excited about the racing program and the long-term partnership. It's going to be a lot of fun representing UniFirst at Talladega and Daytona."
